Mortise and Tenon Joinery
 Ensuring a lifetime of structural integrity, this age old method of joining two pieces of wood is used in the construction of each item.

Corner Blocks
 The interior of each case is reinforced with wood corner blocks to add strength and prevent racking.

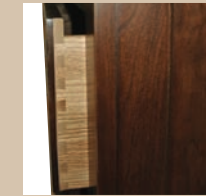

Framed, Fitted Back Panels
 A wooden panel is framed and screwed into the back of each case for added strength and to eliminate racking. Pocket screws are used for easy access and removal of the floating top.

Dust Proofing
 Fully framed wood dust panels between each drawer keep clothes dust free and add strength to the case.

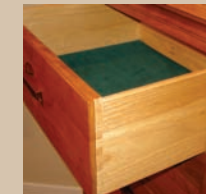

Floating Spacer Balls
 We place these rubber ball bearings inside the frames of all floating panels allowing them to expand and contract naturally without causing warpage, splits, or rattling.

Dovetail Drawers
 The front and back corners of each drawer feature English dovetail joinery producing a drawer strong enough to withstand a lifetime of openings.

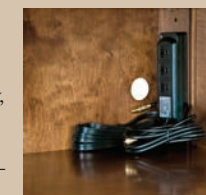

Solid Wood Drawer Guides
 Superior to metal guides, our wood on wood guides are specially treated with a silky sealer ensuring decades of smooth, quiet operation.

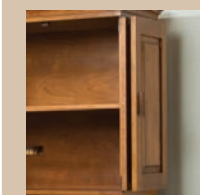

Solid Oak Drawer Interiors
 Our solid Oak drawer sides and bottom panel are sanded smooth and sealed providing a clean look and the ultimate protection for your clothing. Some drawers feature a felt lined bottom for jewelry protection.

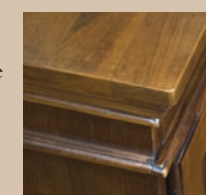

Graduated Drawers
 All of our cases are designed with drawers that decrease in size from bottom to top. Although more costly, the result is a truly stylish and sophisticated look. In addition, all drawers extend fully inside each case - providing maximum storage capacity.

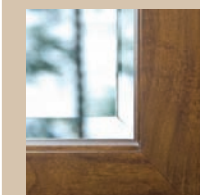

Wired For Electronics
 Where appropriate, Armoires and TV units come equipped with this cable and electrical box for easy component set-up. Additionally, wire management grommets are adequately placed throughout all door pieces.

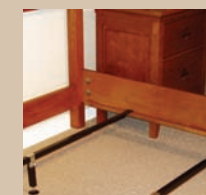

Flat Folding Doors
 We use a special knife and piano style hinge on door units to allow the doors to fold virtually flat against the sides of the cabinet - perfect for unobstructed TV viewing from any angle.

Finished, Solid Wood Tops
 All tall cases like Armoires and Door Decks feature a completely solid, finished top panel.

Beveled Glass
 All mirrors feature beveled glass providing depth and sophistication.

Bolt Rail and Metal Slat Supports
 Each bed employs a bolt system for secure attachment of the side rails to the head and footboards. Additionally, our adjustable metal slat system provides flexibility and strength for a lifetime.
